She is the President of Ego State Therapy International.	Die 8 Stufen der Integration sind ein sehr hilfreiches Instrument, sich in den verschiedenen Phasen der Egostate-Therapie über Stand und Fortschritt der Arbeit zu orientieren und die weiteren Interventionsschritte zu planen. Häufig entsteht im Praxisalltag das Problem, dass aus Zeitgründen Egostatearbeit fraktioniert werden muss und in der nächsten Therapiesitzung der Einstieg in die weitere Arbeit erschwert ist. Hier lässt sich mit dem Stufenmodell gut eine Brücke zur letzten Stunde herstellen und kommunizieren. Ziel des Workshops ist, die 8 Stufen gut abrufbar zu erlernen und in den verschiedenen Phasen nach dem SARIA-Modell anzuwenden. Schwerpunkte in den praktischen Übungen liegen auf der Anwendung sowohl in der verbalen Trancearbeit als auch in der Körperarbeit mit verschiedenen Egostates.

Post Congress Mabula	Debbie Howes: Debbie Howes is a Clinical Psychologist in private practice in Johannesburg. Debbie furthered her studies in Eriksonian Hypnosis, Ego State Therapy, Medical Hypnoanalysis, EMDR and EMI. An interest in the relevance of children's stories – which hold numerous truths that serve to illuminate, educate and inspire through simplicity, beauty and depth, has resulted in a hypnotherapeutic technique which serves to both recondition and reprocess the unconscious dynamics of problems. Debbie is the author of two books which describe the model and therapeutic process as well as a deck of therapeutic cards. Debbie also facilitate constellation, movement, sound and meditation workshops.	Workshop 1: An investigation into the underlying balance of the mother / father /child states of being and archetypes within an individual are explored via an experiential therapeutic approach which bypasses the conscious mind. A group demonstration is included. Workshop 2: Some individuals are more prone to repetitive incidents of trauma than others. An investigation is made into the underlying dynamics operating in the unconscious mind relative to incidences of trauma. Trauma is utilized as an opportunity to grow via the identification and reprocessing of the relevant underlying, unconscious emotional patterns and belief systems operating within an individual. Case studies will be presented. A group demonstration and experience is included.

	Mark Jensen (Ph.D) United States of America	Hypnotic Management of Chronic Pain Main Congress Cape Town Hypnotic Reflective Listening: Using open questions and reflective listening to boost treatment efficacy Post Congress Mabula	Mark Jensen: Professor and Vice Chair for Research in the Department of Rehabilitation Medicine who has been studying chronic pain and helping individuals better manage chronic pain for 40 years. He has been funded by the National Institutes of Health and other funding agencies to study the efficacy and mechanisms of various treatments for chronic pain, including hypnotic analgesia. He has published extensively on the topics of pain assessment and treatment. (More than 500 articles and book chapters, as well as a number of books, including the award-winning Hypnosis for chronic pain management: Therapist guide, published by Oxford University Press)	Workshop 1: This workshop will provide an overview of hypnotic strategies and suggestions for helping individual's better self-manage chronic pain conditions. It will begin with a discussion of the neurophysiology of nociception and pain, focusing on nine specific processes and physiological structures involved in pain perception, and that can be influenced by hypnotic suggestions. A relaxation/favourite place induction followed by suggestions for experiencing greater comfort that is useful for many individuals with chronic pain will be modelled, and participants will then have the opportunity to practice the induction and suggestions. Workshop 2: This workshop will provide a description and demonstration of Hypnotic Reflective Listening – a strategy for identifying effective hypnotic suggestions for helping clients more effectively achieve their treatment goals. The workshop will include demonstrations and practical experiences.
	Margarethe Kruczek-Schumacher (Dipl.-Psych) Germany	Wingwave®, a Brief Method to Address Trauma and Associated Problems Main Congress Cape Town Wingwave®, eine schnell wirkende Methode zum Auflösung von Trauma und anderen Problemen Post Congress Mabula (German)	Margarethe Kruczek-Schumacher: Is a Clinical Psychologist and psychotherapist in private practice in Cologne, Germany. She received her training as a behavioural psychotherapist, hypnotherapist (Ericksonian), pain therapist, sex therapist, Ego State Therapist and Body Therapist She also received training in different body therapy approaches, for example: Somatic Experiencing, SOMA and Bodydynamics as well as EMI, EMDR and coaching. Margarethe is a Wingwave coach and teacher and provides supervision in ego state therapy, pain therapy and behaviour therapy. In addition to that she is also a founder of KITA (Kölner Institut für traumatherapeutische Anwendungen).	The wingwave method combines rapid eye movements (EMDR) with the so-called Omura-Muscletest. It is a kind of a compass which allows the therapist very precisely to find the relevant issue (event/trauma) of the past and to then neutralise it with the eye movement. It helps to ascertain if the problem of the patient is his own problem or the problem of someone else. It also helps to find out whose ego states (child or adult) the problem belongs to. The method helps very effectively to ascertain the unconsciousness, negative beliefs of the client, to change them and then with the help of resources to anchor them in the body again. Wingwave can be combined with all other methods. The workshop includes a short introduction and a live demonstration.

Oder sind Sie gar schon damit gescheitert und mussten deshalb sogar die Behandlung komplett abbrechen, weil das Kind den Mund nicht mehr aufgemacht hat? Wenn Ihnen dies schon passiert ist, dann sind Sie nicht die/der einzige, denn nicht umsonst gehört das Verabreichen einer Anästhesie recht häufig zu den großen Herausforderungen in der Kinderzahnheilkunde. Wenn man aber weiß wie es geht, also mit den richtigen Worten dem Kind den Ablauf erklärt, dann verliert dieses Thema vollständig seinen Schrecken und trägt sogar dazu bei das Vertrauen in den (Zahn-) Arzt zu stärken. Und was gibt es schöneres als eine gute und vertrauensvolle Arzt – Patienten Beziehung mit Ihren jungen Patienten? Nachdem ich Zahnarzt bin zeige ich einige Videos aus meiner Zahnarztpraxis. Die Methode ist jedoch mit kleinen Adaptationen in jedem ärztlichen Fach anwendbar wenn es darum geht eine Nadel setzen zu müssen. Doch auch andere Probleme können so gelöst werden denn die pseudologischen Erklärungen auf denen die Methode beruht sind überall und jederzeit einsetzbar

He is the director of the Italian School of Ericksonian Hypnosis and Psychotherapy and a member of the Board of Directors of the Milton Erickson Foundation. Camillo is the editor of the Italian hypnosis journal “Ipnosi” and editorial consultant for the International Journal of Clinical and Experimental Hypnosis, since 1997. He is a member of the Editorial Board of the American Journal of Clinical Hypnosis since 2005.	Workshop 1: Advantages deep hypnosis offers do not depend solely on the state itself but also on some specific qualities the profound trance is able to elicit from the subject. A useful and practical conception of deep hypnosis will be presented, together with its theoretical basis. Clinical cases and demonstrations of the hypnotherapeutic process utilizing deep hypnosis will be presented. Workshop 2: The use of hypnosis with families appears to be an easy and natural process because family provides the most common context for early hypnotic experiences. Therapists working with couples and families learned by their experience how one can be deeply influenced by the family spontaneous inductions. Indirect as well as direct forms of hypnosis to be used in the family interview will be presented and special attention will be dedicated to the criteria to follow in order to combine properly direct and indirect in the different phases of the therapeutic process.

	Rick Miller (LICSW) United States of America	Gay Sons and Their Mothers: The Relational Mystique Conveyed through an Ericksonian Lens Main Congress Cape Town	Rick Miller is a psychotherapist and author. He served on the faculty of The International Society of Hypnosis, The Milton Erickson Foundation, The Brief Therapy Conference, The Society for Clinical and Experimental Hypnosis, The American Society of Clinical Hypnosis, The American Group Psychotherapy Association, The Couples Conference and Harvard Medical School. He is the author of Unwrapped: Integrative Therapy With Gay Men... the Gift of Presence (Zeig, Tucker & Theisen, 2014) and Mindfulness Tools for Gay Men In Therapy. (PESI, 2016). His Psychology Today blog is Unwrapped: Mind Body Wisdom and the Modern Gay Man. He is also the Executive Director and Executive Producer for Gay Sons and Mothers.	The relationship between gay sons and their mothers historically suggests an enmeshment that contributed to the son being gay. This mind-set is no longer considered valid. This author's project, Gay Sons and Mothers, consists of photos and narratives depicting these bonds, as well as video interviews that portray the emotional aspects of these powerful relational connections. This workshop provides these findings through video clips of gay sons and/or mothers, as well as a historical timeline of gay history.

Resiliency comes from finding strength as well as accessing all of our ego states, including our most vulnerable and hidden ones. This workshop will provide a fun and creative opportunity to explore both painful and successful moments in psychotherapy. Warmth, humor and acceptance have been key fundamentals that Rick and Tobi embrace; however, internalizing these traits by therapists about their own foibles can seem less comfortable. In reviewing the fundamentals of countertransference and narcissistic injury, they highlight how essential the understanding of internal ego states are for evocative transformation. The workshop will deconstruct triggering moments that occur in psychotherapy and utilize trance experiences to identify the variety of ego states that can be grounding or disregulating. Case examples, storytelling, exercises and hypnotic trance will be part of this interactive and experiential workshop.

Daher wird die Ego-State-Therapie mit dem systemischen Ansatz des Reflecting Teams von Tom Anderson verbunden. Die Ich-Anteile des Therapeuten, als sog. „Inneres Reflecting Team“ spielen eine ebenso wichtige Rolle wie die des Klienten. Dieser innere Dialog zwischen den Ego-States des Therapeuten soll dem Klienten zugänglich gemacht und therapeutisch genutzt werden. Die Kernidee des reflektierenden Teams ist die Offenheit zwischen Klienten und Therapeuten. Eine weitere Kernidee ist die Trennung zwischen der erlebenden Position d.h. diskutieren und reagieren auf das Gesprochene und der zuhörenden, reflektierenden Position welche am wenigsten bedrohlich ist. Daher wird den Ego-States der Klienten, ganz im Sinne Andersons, eine zuhörende, reflektierende Position ermöglicht sodass sie sich sicher fühlen können. Dies birgt die größtmögliche Chance zur Konstruktion neuer Ideen des Erkennens und Handelns und damit zur Veränderung für den Klienten.

(Aunty Ali Golding – Aboriginal Elder). Research in psychology and child development suggests that circles are part of the fundamental structuring of personal identity. The Labyrinth as such is a symbol that relates to wholeness. This workshop explores the use of Labyrinths, mindfulness and the expressive arts in therapy to firstly assist the client to move the focus from what's wrong into what's right. Secondly the utilization of Labyrinths in Ego States Therapy creates effortless flow for the client to easily identify resources and skills through the engagement of various techniques to illicit, communicate with and reintegrate the client's ego states. From this background participants will be introduced to various ways of utilising Labyrinths and how this can be superimposed on the SARIA model used in Ego States Therapy. In this highly interactive multimedia workshop, participants are invited to enter the world of Labyrinths towards a deeper understanding of the parts of the personality.

Ich integriere mehrere Behandlungsstrategien zu einen umfassenden multimodalen Ansatz, der auf die unausgesprochenen frühen Erfahrungen des Patienten abgestimmt ist. Der Workshop basiert auf den innovativen und grundlegenden Beiträgen von Sandra Paulsen und Katie O'Shea und integriert damit mein Verständnis für komplexe Traumata, dissoziative Störungen und die Neurobiologie der traumatischen Dissoziation. Der Ansatz der Arbeit mit frühen Traumata besteht in seinem Grundkonzept aus den Therapieschritten: 1) „Containment“ 2) „Safe State“, 3) Zurücksetzen fest verdrahteter subkortikaler affektiver Schaltkreise und 4) die „zeitliche Integration“. Der Timeline-Ansatz integriert auch Ego-State-Arbeit, um die Loyalität gegenüber dem Angreifer und das Problem der Täterintrojekte zu reduzieren und das innere System zu optimieren. Vorerfahrungen in Ego-State-Therapie und Arbeit mit traumaassozierten Störungen wären hilfreich

She has lectured and given workshops in many international hypnosis congresses in different European countries, Turkey, Canada, China, Iran and other parts of the world. She lectures in Dutch, English, French and German. In her clinic she offers therapy with integration of CBT, Hypnosis, solution-focused approaches and EMDR for a variety of problems such as posttraumatic stress and stress related disorders, dissociative disorders, anxiety, performance enhancement, pain control, psychosomatics, functional syndromes, habit control, social anxiety, test anxiety and depressive disorders	Workshop 1: Resilience is a multi-factorial characteristic, a result of knitting elements from “nature” with “nurture”. Mobilizing resilience as an antidote or “psychological antibody” is important in the prevention and recovery of burnout and compassion fatigue, particularly for health care workers being at higher risk of it. By personal experiences participants will discover how hypnosis enhances resilience and strengthens an inner locus of control. As a result, participants find their way paved to better deal with life’s and professional challenges and gain a proactive attitude to deal with daily hassles and life-events. Workshop 2: Classical and new approaches such as ideo-motor and ideo-sensor processes, mind/body and body/mind experiences are useful for induction and deepening in hypnosis. During this practical workshop participants will familiarize themselves with amongst other: mirroring hands, trance-dance movements, field experiences, processes useful in inner conflict resolution, letting go as well as dealing with grief and helplessness.

Ihnen wird eine Psychotherapie als Massnahme verordnet und falls diese nicht besucht wird, haben sie mit schwerwiegenden Konsequenzen zu rechnen. Grund für solche Massnahmen können Gewalttaten, Grenzüberschreitungen gegenüber den Kindern, der Partnerin oder des Partners oder fremden Personen, Veruntreuung, Betrug oder etwas anderes sein. Unter diesen unfreiwilligen Bedingungen ist es oft sehr schwer für Klienten, sich auf die Psychotherapie und den Entwicklungsprozess einzustellen und sich ihren dunklen Seiten zu stellen. Die Klienten verleugnen oder verharmlosen oft ihre Tat, geben anderen die Schuld, fühlen sich als Opfer oder sind der Meinung, sie hätten kein Problem. In diesen Situationen kann Telearbeit eine gute Möglichkeit sein, die Ressourcenseiten, die hellen Persönlichkeitsanteile wahrzunehmen, zu stärken und sich den dunklen Seiten zu stellen und eine gesunde Entwicklung in Gang zu setzen. Im Seminar werden Behandlungsmöglichkeiten mit Telearbeit mit Klienten mit dunkler Seite dargestellt.
